at 0400 on Monday 01 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold and bright turning wet and windy.

Today:
After a frosty start, Monday looks to be a fine winter's day: remaining dry with sunny spells for many and light winds. Turning slightly cloudy in the north by the afternoon. Feeling chilly. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry evening, with increasing levels of cloud and wind. Rain, occasionally heavy, moves northeast across the region during the small hours, turning to snow away from immediate coasts. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Tuesday:
Windy throughout, with risks of icy stretches and coastal gales. Widespread rain and snow clears, leaving an unsettled mix of bright spells and heavy, blustery showers. Turning widespread again later. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Remaining rather cold with outbreaks of rain throughout. Snow likely on Wednesday, and a smaller dusting expected Thursday. Winds strengthen Friday.
